DAVID JONES: Hello, Dai speaking.

NEAL GIBSON: Hiya Dai, it's Neal at Dover, are you all right?

DAVID JONES: Very good, Neal. You?

NEAL GIBSON: Yeah, I just thought I'd touch base because this maybe the last time we speak tonight before I get overrun, who knows? I've spoken to Tom and we've got a bit of a plan sort of going forwards for tonight, breaks and things like that, obviously pending workload. Are you aware of whether George has been tasked to come in early in the morning, tactical command for zone 14 at all? Has that been discussed? Because (Overspeaking)

DAVID JONES: No idea.

NEAL GIBSON: Okay, I mean, logically it'd be on the first amber night and red night tomorrow that we've had. There's a period of bad --

DAVID JONES: Give him a ring, mate, before it gets too late, just to see.

NEAL GIBSON: Just to see what the plan is.

DAVID JONES: Yeah.

NEAL GIBSON: Yeah, that's fine. Cool. He was in today, but he didn't mention anything about it, so yeah, I didn't know whether anything mentioned at a strategic level above my head because I was (Overspeaking) just to be aware.

DAVID JONES: Yeah, give him a ring just to see if there is anything in place.

NEAL GIBSON: Yeah, that's not a problem, but nothing you're aware of at the minute?

DAVID JONES: No, I'm not.

NEAL GIBSON: Okay, not a problem.

DAVID JONES: Ta, mate, okey dokey.

NEAL GIBSON: Okay, cheers.

DAVID JONES: Cheers.

NEAL GIBSON: Fingers crossed it's all routine, but who knows? I'll see at 9.00.
Cheers then.

DAVID JONES: All right, mate, thank you.

NEAL GIBSON: Bye.

DAVID JONES: Bye.
